

1    Abstract of Disclosure

2    A protective sleeve is provided for use with an extension bar. The 3    extension bar includes a detent and a button that can be pressed in order 4    to control the detent. The protective sleeve defines a hole and an 5    aperture communicated with the hole. The hole receives the extension 6    bar when the aperture receives the button.
